News Notes From Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

Two little tales about May Allison, each one a gem which will surely interest her followers. The first one is an agricultural note which says that Miss Allison, Metro star, has a personal interest in the beautiful grounds surrounding her new home in Beverly Hills and a Japanese garden in the grounds. It is further reported that the fair lady also arranged for a gun invasion of the Big Bear territory in southwestern California.

The second note is scandalous, or nearly so. I shall give it to you as it was written to me: "Residents of Hollywood, Cal. are bemoaning the fact that they were not up early one morning last week, as they thereby missed seeing a startling reproduction of Lady Godiva's famed ride by May Allison as one scene in Metro's screen version of 'The Marriage of William Ashe'." The horse upon which Miss Allison rode became excited by the lights and clicking cameras in the studio and bolted through an archway down through the streets of Hollywood. A chauffeur captured the fleeing animal after three blocks and brought it and the blushing star back to the studio. "I'm glad it was three o'clock in the morning," Miss Allison is reported to have said.

LEAGUE SPEAKER TELLS AUDIENCE TO VOTE FOR COX

"Christ was crucified, but he rose again. The republicans can crucify the league of nations but its soul will live on and some day it will be a material thing. We are bound to have a league of nations. It may not be the league, but it will be a league; we must come to it."

These were some of the statements made by Solon Fieldman, New York City, addressing a crowd of 200 at the Corn Exchange here last evening on the subject of the league of nations. Speaking under the auspices of the national democratic committee, he confined his lecture to the league, giving but passing mention to Cox and Harding. He was introduced by John McWilliams, Janesville attorney.

He talked for an hour and a half and upon finishing, stayed another three quarters of an hour answering questions of the audience which stayed with him until 10:30 o'clock.

"No matter who is elected we are going to have a league of nations. If you want world peace, world cooperation, world justice, you should vote the democratic ticket on November 2, and vote straight. You cannot expect a good league, from a party which is against it, that is, whose standard-bearers have declared themselves against it."

FARMERS AWAIT FEDERAL DECISION ON CREDIT POLICY

(By Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 15.—Although the agricultural conference held here for the purpose of obtaining more liberal credit for farmers had concluded its sessions, a committee remained in Washington today awaiting announcement of the credit policy of the Federal Reserve.

A statement covering the whole credit situation was being prepared by the Federal Reserve board and its agents, in conference here, and it was expected it would be made public tonight.

$20,070 IS TOTAL OF FIRST DAY OF GUERNSEY SALE

Sales of pure bred Guernseys for the first day of the sale at the fair grounds amounted to $20,070 for 60 head, the average price being $335. The highest price of the day was paid by George M. Hendy, Safford, Conn., who offered $1,400 for "Roselle of Fox Valley," owned by W. J. Doughton of Beloit. The cow has a record of 9,070 pounds of milk and 698 pounds of fat in class D.D., which is a creditable record for a five year old. Advance registry requires a cow in this class to produce 255 pounds of fat.

Second highest sale of the day was made by Dr. W. A. Munn's "Lady Smith of Crest," a five year old in class A, bought by William Barber, Edgerton, for $710. Three hundred people were present, including many women.

Sale of 69 grade cows on at the pavilion today.

James H. Murphy, manager of the Tilden Farms sale, said the Southern Wisconsin Guernsey Breeders' association, under whose auspices the sale is being held, is a breeder of note and the success of the sale is largely due to his efforts and those of Dr. Munn, this city, president of the association.

DR. BARKER SAYS YOU CAN LIVE 100 YEARS IF YOU WANT

It is possible that some people do not want to live to be a hundred but there are others who would be glad to live long enough to see the high cost of living changed and the price of limousine airplanes be within the reach of all.

Dr. Charles E. Barker who has made scores of friends in Janesville this week will tell how the hundred year mark can be attained. He will talk at the First Baptist church. There is no admission charge. The lecture is free, one of the series the doctor has been giving here on topics of vital interest. The lecture begins at 8 o'clock tonight.

How old does a parrot live to be? This is a problem that has long puzzled students. It is known that they live to a great age, but Charles Owen, former county recorder of Santa Clara county, California, asserts his bird is by far the oldest of any in the country. The Letters of Tessie and Joe

DEAR JOE:

I been reading a lot of politics lately. By that I mean I been reading parts of both candidates' speeches. One day I read the beginning of Harding's and the end of Cox's and the next day I read the beginning of Cox's and the end of Harding's. In that way I hope to keep my prejudices neutral. And that's very reason I'm sort of glad that that handsome young Franklin Roosevelt is only running for vice president instead of president, because I think he'd make a simply stunning looking president and yet at the same time beauty and brains and wisdom penetrates to the brain. But both Mrs. Pink and I feel his modesty was simply splendid in picking out the vice presidency to run instead of the presidency.

Well, as I say, I'm keeping read up, and Mrs. Pink and I have some real hot political arguments. I always win them, but Mrs. Pink always acts as if she won them and I think it's pretty low of her. I guess you'll testify I'm a regular Jack Dempsey when it comes to arguing, won't you Joe? At least I can always make you roll your eyes in despair and hide behind the evening paper.

Mrs. Pink thinks she's going to vote for Cox because she knew a man named Cox once and he never did anything to be ashamed of, but I haven't made up my mind. The more I read their speeches the more they make me feel that either one would be all right just so long as I don't vote for the other one. Funny thing, Joe. Every time I have to wake up out of a sound sleep to do it. How do you explain that, Joe? I hope it's not a symptom that he's going to be a reformer or nothing like that. Nobody likes a reformer, do they Joe? I've always heard reformers have to die to be appreciated and I don't want the baby worrying himself into no early grave for the more sake of a status on a horse that he won't even see.

The baby gained 8 ounces last week; bless his little heart, apparently without an effort.

Your loving Tessie.

Tomorrow Joe springs an almost brilliant scheme to make the baby hard and manly.

Heart and Home Problems

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl fourteen years old and am large for my age. I have two cousins visiting my grandmother last week. I went down there to spend the night. I had a big party and a good time. When we got back we sat on a cot on the porch. I sat in the middle with an arm back each of us and he kept squeezing us. The other girl lay her head on his shoulder and he kept trying to make me but I wouldn't.

The next morning he was waiting for me and we went out on the front porch again. I had a big party and a good time. When we got back we sat on a cot on the porch. I sat in the middle with an arm back each of us and he kept squeezing us. The other girl lay her head on his shoulder and he kept trying to make me but I wouldn't.

He lives at Birmingham, Ala. He told me while I was at grandmother's that I would come down next summer. The first thing he would do would be to come after me. Does he love me for a sweetheart? I do not want to marry one of my own kind and I am not going to do it. I am eighteen. I am not thinking of marriage until I am somewhere in the twenties.

Please give me the information I need. I will appreciate it. I surely did hate to see him leave. I cried four times the day he left. Mother said I could go down there thirty minutes in a medium oven, and one and one-half cups sweet milk in double boiler. Cook about twenty minutes. Add three tablespoons butter, substitute one teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Stir in well and remove from fire.

Stains on Silk—One part turpentine to two parts of essence of lemon will remove stains from silk. Rub gently with this mixture on soft cloth.

Stevens Point—More than 100 agents and operators, representing more than half the towns in the northern district of the Chicago division of the "See" road, met here in the biggest "get together" meeting of its kind ever held in the city. Following the tour about the city, a luncheon was served in the See line station annex after which a program of speeches was given.

Novelist Organizes Women for Harding

Orange Marmalade—Four lemons, eight oranges. Four pounds cut sugar. Remove peel from fruit and cook until soft in enough water to cover; drain and scrape the white part from rind with a spoon. Cut thin yellow rind in strips with scissors. Divide oranges in sections, remove seeds and tough skin and put them into a preserving bottle. Heat gradually and cook very slowly over a low flame one hour. Add the rind and cook one hour longer; then turn into glasses.

Corn Relish—Twelve ears of corn, one head of cabbage, four sweet red peppers, two bunches of celery, one cup of sugar, two tablespoons of salt, one-eighth pound mustard, one teaspoon of tumeric, three teaspoons mustard.

Mix tumeric, flour and mustard in a little cup vinegar. Add the vegetables and cook twenty minutes covered with vinegar.

Scallop Oysters—One quart flour, one-half teaspoon salt, two heaping teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons lard, two eggs, one-half pound seeded raisins.

Rub flour, baking powder, lard and salt together in a bowl. Beat eggs and add enough water to make a little stiffer than cake dough. Then add raisins which have been dipped in flour.

Put batter into muslin bag and boil two and one-half hours. Tie bag with string very tight. Slice and eat with sugar and cream.

Spiced Cakes—One cup economical cake which will keep fresh quite a while. The following recipe makes two good sized loaf cakes: One-third cup shortening (may be oil), one cup sugar, two eggs, one cup molasses (may be half syrup), one cup sour milk, one teaspoon baking soda (heaping), three cups flour, one ginger; about one-third cup raisins may be added.

Clean this well and bake in a rather slow oven.

Scalloped Oysters—One pint oysters, four tablespoons milk or cream, one-half cup bread crumbs, salt and pepper, one-half cup melted butter, one cup cracker crumbs.

Brown the crumbs slightly and mix them with melted butter. Sprinkle a thin layer of crumbs on bottom of shallow buttered baking dish; cover with oysters, sprinkle with salt and pepper; add half of oyster liquor and half of milk; repeat and cover.

Moistened Sauce—Mix together three tablespoons cracker crumbs, one-third cup grated horseradish root, top with remainder of crumbs. Bake

Costumes Seen on Paris Boulevard

By ELOISE.

Fashion writers recently returned from France say that Paris, in costume design, has resumed her former pre-eminence. With all the character and charm that ever she displayed during her gala seasons before the war, she has come forward this fall presenting cleverly designed additions to the feminine wardrobe. It has been said no longer can there be any dubious questioning about whether the French artists will ever again be able to command universal recognition—for they do so now.

Here are three unique costumes snapped recently on the Paris boulevards which show some of the unusual features of the French fashion. The frock at the left is made of velvet and duvetyne combined and trimmed with silk embroidery. Note the very short sleeves and the unusually long skirt.

In the center is a striking zebra frock. It is fashioned of black and white striped jersey made with the stripes running around the skirt and down on the blouse. Pockets are the only trimming. The coat which seems to belong to this costume is made of black velvet trimmed with white fur.

A feather trimmed "pinaflore" marks the frock at the right as something a bit different from other fashions. Brown satin makes the foundation of the frock while the straight overdress is made of bright orange silk richly embroidered. This is edged by a band of coarse feathers. The hat is made to match the frock with a brown satin crown, an orange turned-up brim and coque trimming.

Antique Mrs. Mary Rogers, Mrs. Eviline Turner, Mrs. Ida King, alleged wives of three alleged robbers apprehended in connection with the bank robbery in Kenosha, were arraigned on a charge of robbing a department store they pleaded not guilty. Hearing was set for Friday.

No Need to Sweeten Grape-Nuts This wheat and malted barley food is naturally sweet, since twenty hours' baking and processing develop sugar from its own grains.

May Have No Nominee. E. I. asks: In case of the death of a presidential nominee who would take the nominee's place?

A. This situation has never arisen and no provision is made by law for it. It is probable that the party would seek some means of uniting upon some acceptable candidate.

Wisconsin Primary Law. E. M. S. asks: When was the direct primary law passed in Wisconsin?

A. The Wisconsin direct primary law was passed in 1892.

Harding and Cox. P. H. asks: When and where were Senator Harding and Governor Cox born?

A. Senator Harding was born on a farm near Blooming Grove, Morrow county, Ohio, Nov. 2, 1855. Governor Cox was born on a farm near Jacksonburg, Butler county, Ohio, March 31, 1870.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

A Little schoolgirl was heard to complain the other day because there was nothing left to do but "ordinary things." She said that by the time she grew up everything would be as prosaic as schoolteaching once was and she would have nothing "different" to do. It probably does not look that way to most young girls, especially today, since so many girls are doing so many extraordinary things. Every day brings news of some woman who is trying out or succeeding in some new field, and there is really no cause for alarm, for this will continue as long as the world exists. There will always be something different for the little girl to do who really wants to strike out into new fields—there is "always a chance for the pioneer."

Miss Gertrude Emerson, an attractive young woman who graduated not long ago from Chicago University, is about to start on a very unusual assignment of work, particularly unusual for a girl to be attempting. Miss Emerson has long been a student of eastern European literature and she has just sailed for the orient to film the little-known tribes of the far east. Part of her work will be done from a private plane, and she will be in the little school miss need never worry about a prosaic future.

A CHAMPION SHOT. In the National Rifle Association shoot held recently at Camp Perry, O., Mrs. Mary Crossman, wife of Captain L. C. Crossman, of Washington, made a perfect score of ten bulls in the 1000-meter range in the adjutant general's cup match.

POST PRAISES WOMEN. Maurice Maeterlinck has thrown a bomb into conservative French literary circles by declaring that women should be admitted into the French Academy. He says that both Countess de Noailles and Mme. Collette, distinguished authors, ought long ago to have been admitted, and that several other women writers are as worthy of the honor of membership as many men now in the Academy.

Merrill—Jerry Wonnely was given a judgment of $5,000 in circuit court at Rhineclander in action brought by him against Dr. Poland for Malpractice. According to attorney for the plaintiff the physician had properly set Donnelly's fractured leg, but later neglected proper growth as two pieces of the bone, instead of uniting end to end and joined side by side.

BILLY WHISKER

By FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

When the policeman saw what Billy had been doing, he was going to arrest the goat but Frank pointed out to where the mayor was still sitting around in the fountain and the policeman ran to help the mayor, who was now dyed a beautiful green. Face and hands and clothes, while Frank took Billy by the horns and raced back down the street with him. This was what Billy liked. He was a young goat, and like other young animals, was playful, and he thought that Frank's racing with him was good enough, and when Frank let go of his horn, he galloped along beside his young master very contentedly. Frank ran back to the hotel with his goat as fast as he could go, but when they drew near he saw a large crowd out in front and their carriage waiting for them, with the horses hitched and the driver sitting up in front. Mrs. Brown was in the carriage and Frank's father was in front of the crowd handing out money first to one and then to the other. When Frank and his goat came up his father looked at the goat very sternly.

SMART WRAP FOR FOOTBALL DAYS

By ELOISE.
With smart fur coats and fashion wraps the center of attraction, one is very likely to forget that winter has some attractive sports togs as well as summer. One does not need to wait for the skating season either to see smart sports clothes. There are autumn hikes and picnics, football games and motor trips, all of which demand sports clothes of some kind. Tweed suits and skirts with sweaters and polo coats are very smart. Knitted scarfs and hats and tailored shirts also belong in the fall sports wardrobe.
Here is a very unusual coat which the college girls will "just love." It is just the thing for keeping out the chill breezes at football games this fall and will be smart for wear at the country club. It is a knitted wrap

AND HEDID.

"See all the trouble that animal has made up!" he said. "I have had to pay out in damages nearly every cent of cash I have with me, and as there is no bank in this little village, my letter of credit is worth nothing here. We must go on to Bern as fast as we can, and I want you to leave that goat behind you. We can't bother with him any more. Come on and get in."

"But, father," explained Frank, "the goat did not know what he was doing."

"It does not matter," replied Mr. Brown. "There's no telling what kind of mischief he will get into next."

"Got in the carriage," said Mr. Brown, sharply.

"But, father," again Frank began to argue. "This time, however, I have a plan. I will go over and pick him up, put him into the carriage with a not very gentle hand. Then, climbing in himself, he ordered the driver to start."

Billy had taken his place back where he had been tied the other time, and he was surprised to find the carriage moving on without him. The driver, seeing that the goat was to be left behind, started forward to give the animal a kick, but Billy was too quick for him, and he suddenly ran between the driver's legs and doubled him over. Just behind the cook stood Hans Zug, and as Billy wriggled out sideways from beneath the cook's feet the cook tumbled back against Hans and both of them stood up to the ground. Billy stood and shook his head for a moment and then he doubled them up again because it took them to their feet, but the driver they got to their feet, but the sight of the retreating carriage made him change his mind and he made him change his mind and he ran after it with Hans and the fat man chasing him.

Plain, Every-Day Rules.
It takes a lot of practice to handle a trowel well. The English language is a whole lot more complicated and harder to handle than a trowel. Here are some plain, every-day rules, well worth keeping in mind when writing:

1. Condense. Bring out the main idea quickly. If the reader is intelligent, give him credit for it. Leave nothing for him to think himself.
2. Break up long, complex sentences into short, direct ones.
3. Avoid long words when a short one will do.
4. Practice saying the same thing in a number of different ways.
5. Learn to use memory some passages of fine, clear English, like Lincoln's Bixby letter.

Boyhood Days of Famous Men

Accorded to reports, George Walsh is to quit the Fox banner and become a producer "on his own."

Ben Turpin, whose eyes assert a various message in Mack Sennett comedy conceptions, celebrates his thirty-third anniversary of his birth.

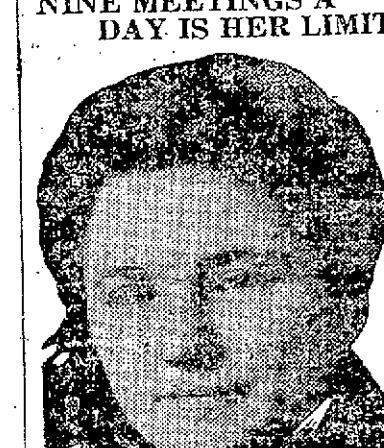

Madge Bellamy, who supported William Gillette in "Dear Brutus," will be leading woman for Douglas MacLean in "One Minute."

More than a thousand movie players attended a memorial service in one of the Los Angeles studios for Olive Thomas, Robert Raynor, Clarence Seymour, Ormer Locklear and Frank Elliott.

Harrison Ford has become a wholesale leader—man. He has signed to appear in plays with both Norma and Constance Talmadge.

Loise Lorraine is having the time of her cinema career acting as lead lady in "Elmo Lincoln" in his Crying Judy serial, "The Flaming Disk."

NINE MEETINGS A DAY IS HER LIMIT

Mrs. Paul Reyman, of South Dakota, has orders from her physician not to address more than nine Republican meetings a day. It is all because she is in such demand for political rallies and an ardent speaker for Harding and Coolidge. She stands at the top of the list of women speakers for the Republican party.

TWO BOYS BUILD HOUSE

A house from scrap lumber—every detail just like they had laid out in their plans before hand!

Oscar, Willis, 10, and his brother, Bobby, 8, have a right to be proud of what they have done. They drew up the plans, cut the lumber, and did all the carpentry work themselves.

Bobby Willis has made his playmates envious by making chairs, too. He takes box boards and builds real chairs so solid and substantial that they are really useful.

Oscar and Bobby are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Willis, 14th street, Huntington, Ind.

Not One Girl As Class Officer.
Surgists are in arms in the Junior class of the South Bend (Ind.) high school. Out of fifteen nominees for class officers, reported by the committee on nominations, not a single one is a girl. It looks like some anti-surgists are on the inside of things.

"How do you South Bend boys expect to get through a whole year without the support of the girls?" Answer if you can!

WHO IS HE?

Andrew Carnegie called him "The greatest salesman that ever lived."
(Yesterday)
Cyrus K. McCormick, president of The International Harvester Co.)

OLD MAN PUZZLE

Erect a column of eleven five-lettered words, so that each reading from top to bottom will give you something that most boys want to be. Thus you take the first letter of the first word, the second of the second, the third of the third, the fourth of the fourth, the fifth of the fifth, the fourth of the sixth, and so on.

Definitions of eleven five-lettered words are: 1. Noise a duck makes. 2. Small unit of weight. 3. To begin. 4. Bright or intelligent. 5. At the beginning. 6. A certain kind of auto horn. 7. A ridiculous situation. 8. An old English church. 9. To change. 10. To frighten. 11. Just above the instep.

(Answer to yesterday's "Sport" may be changed to "Study," as follows: sport, spurt, spurn, spurs, spuds, studs, study.)

Don't Miss a Single Finger!

The Passing Show, a London paper, says that to make it easier to take finger-prints of babies in the United States, the doctors are going to make the impressions in jam.

Such finger-prints, like some babies, are too nice to last very long.

OLD LADY RIDDLE

Which bird ought to lift the heaviest weight?
(Answer to yesterday's: Brokers in a panic are like Pharaoh's daughter when they save a little prophet from the rushes on the banks.)

"I is" or "I am!"
"I is," began a small student.
"I am," promptly corrected the teacher. "I am the ninth letter of the alphabet," finished the boy.

It is all because she is in such demand for political rallies and an ardent speaker for Harding and Coolidge. She stands at the top of the list of women speakers for the Republican party.

NORTHWESTERN WILL SEND CRIPPLED SQUAD TO BATTLE BADGERS

Interest in "Big Ten" circles centers Saturday in the clash between Wisconsin and Northwestern, mainly because of the spurt taken by the Purple in beating Minnesota last week. The Methodists depart from Chicago this afternoon for Madison minus Grausnick who is out because of injuries, but who would be protested by the Badgers anyway because it is reported he coached a team at Hudson, N. J.

When the Northwestern squad starts against Madison Saturday, it will enter a crippled lineup. Only five of the regulars are in condition to play. Hathaway, Penfold, Peterson, Blackwood and Dahl are on the hospital list. Because of this condition Coach McDewitt will very likely alter his form of play.

Turner, the Northwestern colored en, was expected to be in the line Saturday, but injuries probably will keep him out all season. This is a severe loss to the eleven.

At Madison secret workouts have been Coach Richards' rule. He working to develop the offensive strength and bolster the line. Wisconsin's forward wall showed glaring weaknesses last week in the game with the Michigan Aggies.

Jillott, the Samson Tractor third sacker, and Williams, former Lakota Cardinal basketball star, both have been working with the team all week. The team has been working on Northwestern and Ohio state plays.

While sliding into home, he hurt his foot. In Janesville he played with the Barbed Wire team.

BICK RETURNS FROM WEST WITH RECORD

Al Bick, formerly a player in the Commercial baseball league of this city, has returned from Westport, S. D., where he played with the independent team of that city. As pitcher and rightfielder in the semi-pros of that district he not only made good this season, but has been booked to go back to Groton, S. D., next year.

Bick did not play after the middle of August, but spent the last few weeks of the season in a hospital.

CARPENTIER DENIES BOUT WAS FRAME-UP; ASKS SQUARE DEAL

New York, Oct. 15.—Reports circulated in sporting circles and published in some newspapers intimating that the bout Tuesday night at Jersey City between Georges Carpentier and Battling Levinsky was not fairly fought. Thursday night brought strong denials from the principals and others interested in the contest.

"Before I came to America," Carpentier said in a signed statement, "I looked upon all Americans as the personification of fair play; of sportsmanship in the true sense. In fact, I thought America was the land of the square deal. You went to war to insure the world of fair play. I did all you asked me to do. I fought the man selected for me to fight. And this is what I get—the fight is called a fake."

"Give me a square deal. That is all I ask."

"I pledge my honor as a soldier and a citizen of France to the great American republic that I fought to the best of my ability and I sincerely believe from the bottom of my heart that Levinsky did the same."

Levinsky's statement said in part: "It is not possible for me to do anything to prove that this cowardly attack on my honesty is undeserved. In regard to the fight, I know my violation will come if ever Carpentier meets Dempsey. In the second round Carpentier hit me harder than I have ever been hit before. From that moment to the end of the contest I was 'gazed.'"

John S. Smith, chairman of the New Jersey boxing commission, expressed the opinion that the bout was honest.

Oss Will Be Out of Minnesota Lineup

Minneapolis, Oct. 15.—Gloom was cast over the Minnesota football camp today when it became known that Arnold Oss, star halfback, probably will be unable to get in the game with Indiana here Saturday. He has not fully recovered from injuries received last Saturday at Northwestern.

Openly Charge Beloit Controls Basket League; Chubb on Betting

Wisconsin's newly formed Industrial Basketball league is dominated by the Fairbanks-Morse of Beloit for the purpose of keeping the Janesville Lakota Cardinals out of the circuit, according to a statement made today by Joe Denning, manager of the Lakotas, upon his return from the organization meeting held at Fond du Lac. In testimony of his declaration, Denning said:

"After a meeting held in the morning at which it was decided to confine the league to industrial concerns, Al Chubb of Beloit drew me aside and asked me if it would not be possible that if Janesville was allowed to enter the league some way might be arranged whereby the Janesville and Beloit teams would not play each other. I laughed at him and wanted to know what kind of a league it would call that it every one of the teams did not play each other. He replied that the gambling side of the game was too strong to be overlooked, declaring that the Beloit and Janesville plant workers could not afford to bet on the games and lose."

Betting, Chubb's Argument.

Denning said that Chubb used the following phrase:

"If I bet on the games and lose, I can win the money back in the game; if the men in the plant getting $5 and $10 a day lose, they have no way of getting it back."

There was considerable squabbling on the floor of the meeting to decide details of forming the league. Beloit and Green Bay flatly refused to consider anything in the form of a league other than an industrial one.

TRIBE THREATENED DODGERS FROM START OF SIXTH GAME, PLAY AT PLATE SHOWS

Thrilling play in second inning of sixth game. Miller is tagging Gardner at home. Wood is arriving at third.

The sixth game of the world's series proved to be the toughest battle of the classic—at least up to that time. The Indians won 1 to 0. Speaker scored the lone run in the sixth inning. The Indians threatened earlier in the game, however. In the second round Gardner was on third and Wood on second with one down when Sewell went to bat. Sewell grounded to Kilduff and Gardner was nipped at the plate. Wood reached third on the play and the fans had hopes that O'Neill would score him, but Steye couldn't get the ball out of the infield, forcing Sewell at second.

SUNDAY BOOSTER SAMSON GAME IS ONLY TALK HERE

Probably the largest baseball crowd of the year will hike into the grounds Sunday, according to indications. The Samson Tractors will play a post-season game, starting at 2:30 that afternoon, with the Red Ruengings of Fond du Lac. The entire proceeds of the Janesville share to go to the Samson players.

The word "boost" spread rapidly through the city Thursday afternoon as soon as the fans learned that the game had been booked and as soon as they realized its purpose. "Just about" they said, "let's get out and show them our appreciation for the great games that they have given us this season."

Save League. Disbands.

Early winter, stove league crowds were popped up by the announcement. The bags who had just started to settle down in their seats to recall the contests that have nearly grown cold yet straightened up and began to get interested. Booking of another ball game revived the interest in the present league of participants and spectators.

Great hopes are held forth that the ideal weather of the past week how the elements turn, the red-blooded, the booster fans, are going to turn out in force.

COOLIDGE IS AID TO CARRY TICKET

Massachusetts Governor Has Confidence of the People of New England.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
Copyright 1920 by Janesville Gazette.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 15.—Governor Calvin Coolidge, Republican Candidate for the vice-presidency, is about as clear-headed and dispassionate a person as can be found by the political wayfarer, who wants to get at the currents of thought in Massachusetts and not the tides of partisan ship.

Perhaps its the atmosphere created by men like President Lowell or the influenza possibly (Rochester) Hughes that Hoover, Wickersham, but the state house in Boston doesn't exude "bitter ends" or irreconcilable spirit on the league of nations. Governor Coolidge insists with emphasis that he is in complete agreement with the republican platform and Senator Harding's speeches.

The governor himself with natural modesty doesn't attempt to argue issues that are more properly within the jurisdiction of the head of the ticket. Senator Harding "but such thoughts as he does express in his public speeches rather incline toward the Elthru foot notion of what the republican national platform means (than the Borch or Johnson view.

Mr. Coolidge called my attention to a telegram from Senator Harding published in the last two days in which the latter says the speech at Des Moines was not out of harmony with the one delivered at Marion on August 28. It is from the latter address that Governor Coolidge always quotes and he picked up a copy of it while we talked and pointed to a paragraph in which, after discussing the present league of nations and the Hague tribunal, Senator Harding said:

League Amended or Revised
"I would go even further. I would take and combine all that is good and exclude all that is bad from both organizations. This statement is broad enough to include the suggestion that if the league has been so amended and intervened into the peace treaty of Europe that its good must be preserved in order to stabilize the peace of the continent, then it can be amended or revised so that we may still have a remnant of world aspirations in 1918 built into the world's highest conception of helpful cooperation."

That's the policy which Senator Harding is expected here to fulfill if he is elected to the presidency. Plainly the people who with Gov. Coolidge favors a league of nations or association of nations are pinning their faith on the revision of the treaty of Versailles to conform to republican principles. Some folks here accept the Johnson interpretation of the republican platform but the predominant republican feeling is for some kind of a league even though it has to be built on the foundations of the present structure. Senator Hale of Maine in the recent campaign in that state made it clear that he didn't believe republican victory meant repudiation of the idea of principal of a league of nations. And anyone who talks with Gov. Coolidge or reads his speeches recognizes in them an emphasis on the affirmative rather than the negative side of the league controversy. For instance, he said, recently:

"A world relationship exists. It is not the result of any treaty, and it will not be changed by any great solemn referendum."

Harmony of Nations
"The course of true statesman-

"READ THE ANSWER IN THE STARS"

ship" continues the governor, "is to seek out, to discover what world relationship is, and put the action of the nations in harmony with it. This relationship is proposing to do. That relationship is not founded upon major force. Prussia made that mistake. It is founded upon compelling reason. Its herald is not a clanking sabre, but the still small voice. To the establishment of that relationship through the recognition of reciprocal rights and duties, the republican party, by its history, by its policy, by its candidate stands pledged. This is the way with nations, honor, with independence, to the world peace. In that direction, Senator Harding leads."

Examination of other utterances Governor Coolidge shows that he is by no means a "bitter ender" or a member of the Borch-Johnson faction but wants some league of nations. He urges against the incurring of obligations that America would not wish to fulfill. He believes international morality is not asked by the acceptance of obligations in a treaty that is not intended to be enforced.

Talks Common Sense
Reservations such as Senator

Lodge framed in the senate would properly please Governor Coolidge. In some of his speeches he goes back to the lodge reservations and analyzes them. This cannot be merely affection for the work of a fellow republican from Massachusetts but is unquestionably based on a firm belief in world cooperation as essential and inevitable in the present day and age.

Governor Coolidge is not a spectacular individual but he talks common sense. Even in private conversation he doesn't talk like a candidate or politician. He doesn't breathe the bitterness of partisanship which the writer has encountered so often in Washington and elsewhere in the last two years. If he were vice-president he would give such advice as he knows how in the senate, will not insist on a place in the cabinet or anything else that is outside a vice-president's bailiwick. He has no exaggerated idea of the part he may play if the republican national ticket is elected. He doesn't seem to be excited over the campaign or the fate of the world no matter what the verdict is next November.

a plain everyday citizen who is evidently not wrapped up in ambition but in useful toil.

200 HEAR STRONG LECTURE ON HEALTH

Public Invited to Last of Dr. Barker's Talks at Baptist Church Tonight.

More than 200 men attended the lecture last night in the Congregational church by Dr. Charles Barker on "A Father's Responsibility to His Son." The lecture was given to the men only as one of a series of health talks by Dr. Barker in this city.

He told of the things that it is a father's duty to do toward his son. First, he himself must be healthy and keep healthy and then he must give the boy information as to certain matters at certain ages in his life before the boy gets it from the wrong source.

Dr. Barker's power of rhetoric and the vital subject he talked on held the men spell-bound. At the close of the lecture, nearly all of the 200 men signified their intention of buying the pamphlet, which has been printed in pamphlet form. Many men took more than one book for distribution.

A talk to the women, "A Woman's Responsibility to Her Daughter," was to be given at three o'clock this afternoon in the Methodist church to which women only were invited.

The final talk in this city by Dr. Barker will be given this evening in the Baptist church to men, women and children on "How to Live to Be 100."

Dr. Barker talked to the men and women of the Parker Ten company yesterday afternoon, speaking to the men from 4:30 to 5 and to the women and girls from 5 to 6:30.

SHAM BATTLE TO BE REALISTIC AFFAIR

Barrage Will Be Part of "War" at Fair Grounds November 11.

Laying down of a creeping barrage will be part of the big sham battle between the tank corps and the cavalry that will be staged at the fair grounds here November 11 as part of the Armistice Day celebration. Soldiers of the two national guard companies, many of whom saw actual service at the front during the World war and who helped bring about the signing of the armistice, will reproduce in all its reality, the artillery bombardment that so often reduced the enemy trenches to ruins, trapped and cut off the lines of the Germans and opened up approaches for the Yanks to dash "over the top" and advance to the next objective.

Machine Guns in Action, and the shells will explode in "enemy territory," the tanks of the company will lumber clumsily along in their attacks against the members of the cavalry who will be mounted on powder-tried steeds. Machine guns will rain shot from tank and horse while foot soldiers will steal from their earthworks for the attack. Capt. L. O. Chebroun, commander of the cavalry, stated today that the state quartermaster department of the national guard has promised to ship 2,000 rounds of ammunition here for the battle. Capt. R. D. Harmon of the tanks is making all efforts to push the shipment of the tanks here so that they will be tried out by the guardsmen prior to the event.

Plenty of Music. Report was made today from the music committee that the Chamber of Commerce quartet will take part in the ceremonies at the fair grounds. The Bower City band already has been procured for the afternoon. Either the Edgerton band or that of Evansville will also be hired. Robert C. Cunningham, commander of the Richard Ellis Janesville post of the American Legion, has started wires working to call all

FORESTRY AND STATE PARKS IN WISCONSIN

Amherst, Mass.—Wisconsin's public park system, and forest camping developments won high praise today when Prof. Henry R. Francis, head of the recreational forestry department of the New York College of Forestry, at Syracuse, spoke to the American Civic association for annual convention of the big idea back of Wisconsin's operations. "Wisconsin," he said, "has adopted a policy commensurate with the latest ideas in public forest development, of throwing open its state parks and forests to campers. With a small charge per year as rental, anyone can have a summer home in that state. This is in line with the federal work, which is bringing about a far greater use of the nation's forest resources for tourists and lovers of the out of doors."

"The automobile has forced the nation to a broader view of the park problem, and the small city park no longer satisfies, but a larger program of utilization of forest lands has been demanded. Wisconsin was among the first of the states to adopt this policy. New York has forbidden provision but has taken the other possible step, that of throwing open state land for temporary camps, and building shelters for hunters, canoeists and tourists."

"Last year I had the duty of traveling 10,000 miles, of which 1,000 were on horseback or afoot, investigating uses of forests of the nation for campers, and found the federal service fully committed to a most highly developed program of recreational use of the public lands. Wisconsin's program is almost a duplicate of that advanced conception of forest use by the public."

Pond du Lac.—The vocational school of this city has completed plans for a course in commercial law. The purpose of the new course is to teach the fundamental principles of law, business men and all men who aspire to control or manage any business or calling dealing with others.

STATE POTATO SHOW IS POSTPONED

MILWAUKEE, A TWO WEEKS' postponement makes Nov. 23 to Dec. 4 the time for the annual Wisconsin potato show in Milwaukee. Prof. J. G. Twenty counties for the same week. Twenty counties of potatoes in car lots under the direction of the state division of markets will be an important feature of the show this year.
